Rock 'n' roll siblings Hank III, Phillip and Christie Hanewinkel, aka the Red Alert, will perform four times on Friday -- catch 'em if you can.

To support the locally-produced "Holiday Harvest 2007" holiday CD, which raises funds for the Food Bank of Eastern Oklahoma, these Spot Music Award winners will perform three times on the "Six in the Morning" morning news show on KOTV, channel 6, between 7 and 9 a.m.

Later, the trio will load up for a 7 p.m. performance at Barnes & Noble bookstore at 8620 E. 71 Street.

The Red Alert is a featured band on the disc, with its version of "Santa Baby." Local acts Rebecca Ungerman, Pendleton Family Fiddlers, Team Galaxy, Pam VanDyke Crosby, Cairde na Gael, Jeff Graham and more are included on the disc, sold for $15 during the holiday season at all Tulsa-area Borders bookstores, Barnes & Noble stores, Akin's Natural Foods Market and Tea & Magnolias at the Riverwalk Crossing in Jenks.

You can also order a copy by calling (918) 585-2800, ext. 106 or going online to www.tulsaworld.com/FoodBank.

All proceeds will help fund the many Food Bank programs designed to help eliminate hunger and food insecurity in eastern Oklahoma.
